

What My Vote Will Mean to Me

Voting is a constitutional right for all citizens. A right I will one day act upon.

My vote will mean a chance to better our democracy. My vote will mean a chance to choose leaders to represent my ideas and interest. Hopefully, my vote will mean a chance to change the pace of our great nation. My vote will mean a chance for my singular voice to be heard regardless of race, gender, sexual orientation, economic status, or age. My vote will mean a chance to better my life but also the lives of others around me. My vote will mean a chance to move forward from the past but also brighten the future. My vote will mean a chance to improve the lives that will come after me. My vote will mean a chance to impact not only my nation but the world. My vote will mean a chance to affect my community. Whether in a federal, state, or local election, my vote will be a heartfelt, conscious chance for change.
